

Keep your loved ones safe at home for a fraction of the cost.

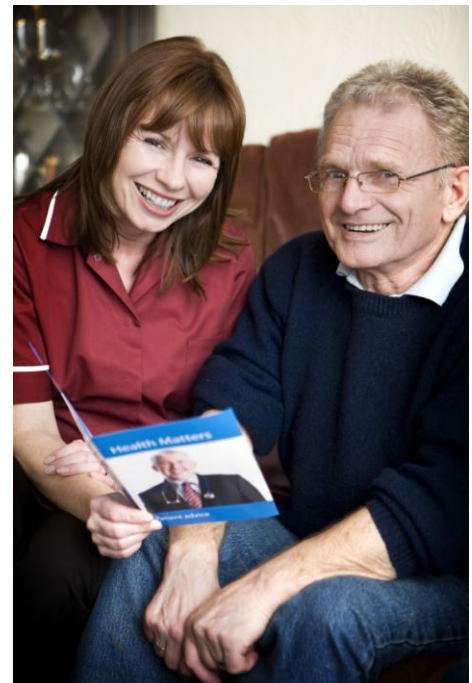

It's no surprise that, according to an AARP survey, 89 percent of seniors want to age in their own homes for as long as possible. If you're caring for an aging parent or spouse, the last thing you want to do is move them out of the place they know and love into a facility. But it's getting harder to maintain your hectic schedule and still make sure your loved one is eating right, taking medications on time and still enjoying a few simple pleasures. Fortunately, a nursing home or assisted living facility doesn't have to be the only choice.

Affordable options everyone can live with.

The inability to manage medications properly is the main reason seniors are admitted to nursing homes. In home health care is an affordable way to get the peace of mind and help you need to keep your loved one safe at home. And it's more affordable than you think!

Take a look at this cost comparison:

	Average Cost
	Annually	Monthly
Nursing Home	$69,715*	$5,810
Assisted Living Facility	$36,372*	$3,031
In Home Health Care
Medication Management	$ 3,540	$ 295
Ten hours/week in home care	$ 9,120	$ 760

Now making sure your loved one takes medication properly, has nutritious meals, gets to doctor appointments—even has a few laughs—is convenient and affordable. Plus, you can take a much-needed break to re-charge your batteries. Just ten hours a week can make all the difference when it comes to keeping your loved one happy, healthy and safe at home!
